

RENEWAL REMINDERS

Once again, the Division is beginning the annual process of mailing approximately 5000 renewals for the 2010-2011 year. Renewals should be mailed prior to May 1, 2010.

In an effort to help us help you, please do not call to confirm that we have received your renewals. If you need confirmation, we recommend that you send your renewals by certified mail.

STRUCTURAL PEST CONTROL COMMITTEE APPROVES SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS

RALEIGH – The following settlement agreements were recently approved by the N.C. Structural Pest Control Committee:

USA Bug Busters of Gastonia agreed to pay $2,000 for continuing to perform both wood-destroying and household pest control work after failing to renew its structural pest control license. The license expired on June 30 and was not renewed until Aug. 4.

Steve Goodman, a registered technician for the Rowan/Salisbury School System, agreed to pay $400 for allowing a homeowner to place a copy of his registered technician card in the permit box of a house being built. The homeowner, who is not a licensed pest control operator, performed the termite treatment himself.

Gary McConnell, of Smith Exterminating Co. in Raleigh, agreed to pay $400 after misapplying pesticide Bifenthrin 7.9. While treating a yard to control insects, he also sprayed an herb garden. The label on the pesticide prohibits its application on crops.

Steven Murray, of Biotech Systems in Birmingham, Ala., agreed to pay $12,000 for conducting pest control work over the past two years at health care facilities across North Carolina without first securing a valid North Carolina structural pest control license.

Wayne Ruey, of Termite Inspector Plus in Louisburg, agreed to pay $400 after failing to attend scheduled site inspections by the NCDA&CS and provide records of work performed.

Charlie W. Boone, of B&B Pest Control in Wadesboro, agreed to pay $5,000 for performing pest control work after his license expired. The license expired on July 1 and was not renewed until Nov. 10.
