Raleigh, N.C.

Southern Farm Show Feb. 4-6

The Southern Farm Show will be held Feb. 4-6 at the State Fairgrounds in Raleigh with more than 400 companies exhibiting agricultural equipment, technology and services.

Visitors can see cowdog demonstrations daily at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., and enjoy bluegrass music by Brothers n' Bluegrass at 11 a.m. and 1 and 2:30 p.m. in the Jim Graham Building.

The event, which is the largest agricultural show in the Carolinas and Virginia, is free.

A number of special events and meetings will be held during the Southern Farm Show, including the FFA Tractor & Truck Driving Competition Feb. 5 at 11 a.m. in the Hunt Horse Complex, equipment displays by the National Tractor Pullers Association & United Pullers of the Carolinas and the Southern National Draft Horse Pull on Feb. 6.

The annual Ag Development Forum will be held Feb. 5 at 9:30 a.m. in the Holshouser Building, with Commissioner Steve Troxler providing an update on the state of agriculture in North Carolina.

There will also be meetings of the N.C. Pork Council, the Tobacco Growers Association of North Carolina and the N.C. Soybean Producers Association.

Farmland preservation grants available

County governments and nonprofit groups pursuing farmland preservation projects have until Dec. 19 to apply for funding assistance from the N.C. Agricultural Development and Farmland Preservation Trust Fund. This year's request for proposals includes statewide general appropriations and $1 million for military base and training buffers.

The statewide general appropriations are anticipated future appropriations in the 2015-2017 biennium budget. The military buffer funds are from the 2014-2015 budget and must be contracted and encumbered by June 15, 2015. The military buffer funds must be matched with federal dollars on an equal or greater basis.

"Our new partnership with the military will protect and enhance the top two economic sectors in North Carolina: agriculture and the military," said Agriculture Commissioner Steve Troxler.

The fund's purpose is to support projects that encourage the preservation of qualifying agricultural, horticultural and forest lands to foster the growth, development and sustainability of family farms.

Grants can be awarded to secure agricultural conservation easements on lands used for agricultural production; to support public and private enterprise programs that promote profitable and sustainable agricultural, horticultural and forestland activities; and for the development of agricultural plans.

The grant application and guidelines for the current funding cycle are available at www.ncadfp.org/CycleVIII.htm. Call 919-707-3071 with any questions. Applications are due by 5 p.m. on Dec. 19.

Apex man named new state veterinarian

Dr. R. Douglas Meckes of Apex has been named the new state veterinarian, replacing Dr. David Marshall who retired in August. Dr. Meckes comes to the N.C. Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

Dr. Meckes received his undergraduate degree and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from Auburn University. He spent 30 years in private practice in Apex on both large and small animals before making a move to Washington, D.C., to serve as a congressional fellow for Sen. Chuck Hagel. After his fellowship ended, he worked as the assistant director of government relations for the American Veterinary Medical Association before joining the Department of Homeland Security. At DHS, he worked in the Office of Health Affairs as chief of the Food, Agriculture and Veterinary Defense Branch.

"I am thrilled to bring Dr. Meckes to Raleigh to serve as state veterinarian," said Agriculture Commissioner Steve Troxler. (See State vet, pg. 3)

December AgroTips

Use agronomic testing to optimize fertilization of greenhouse crops.

Several laboratory tests are available from the NCDA&CS Plant/Waste/Solution/Media Section to help growers of greenhouse crops keep abreast of potential nutritional problems.

Soiless media - Sample media prior to filling pots or bags to verify that pH and soluble salts are within the desired ranges.

Solution analysis -

Submit samples of source water to determine if there are any problems that need to be corrected, such as high alkalinity or high mineral concentrations.

Submit samples of nutrient solutions to verify that the injector is working properly and that plants are receiving the targeted nutrient concentrations.

Plant tissue analysis - Submit samples every couple of weeks to monitor nutrient concentrations in the crop. This test predicts nutrient deficiencies or excesses before symptoms appear so growers can correct the problem quickly with as little reduction in yield as possible.

From the tractor

Commissioner Troxler

I love antiques. Just ask my wife, who may or may not have received an antique tractor or two as presents.

I'd say she's mostly OK with me collecting vintage items, with the possible exception of tractors or farm implements, because they tend to be a lot more expensive and take up a lot of room.

Our home is decorated with antiques we both have collected

by Agriculture Commissioner Steve Troxler

over the years, and some items from our collection are even on display at the Agriculture Building in downtown Raleigh. There is something about the connection to the past and the memories these items bring to mind that just makes them special to me and certainly worth keeping around.

One of the "newest" old pieces on display in my office is a 1952-53 60 Small John Deere kid's pedal tractor that has been meticulously restored by Tim Cox of Haw River. The details of these toys are pretty accurate with their larger cousins, right down to the three-spoke steering wheel and John Deere stickers on the front, rear and sides.

This particular pedal tractor, which is only on loan, was the first one that Tim restored. The restoration was done in 1988.

Collecting and restoring antiques can become addictive, and I think that happened with Tim. He shared a story with me about starting with one or two toy tractors. When he got married he told his wife that this was just a hobby. Then he bought and restored some more, and I got the impression that for a while she was not that impressed with it.

But then he figured out a way to make her appreciate his hobby, too. For 25 years now, he has been buying, restoring and selling these pedal tractors, and even has green and yellow business cards announcing Tim's Pedal Tractor Restorations. Eventually, Tim won over his wife to his "hobby" by giving her $25 for each one he restored and sold. He told me she decided "it was a good hobby after all."

Like I said, collecting is addictive and there is a thrill and satisfaction in finding a hidden gem and restoring it to its former glory. Like Tim, I have bought, restored, traded and sold a few tractors in my time.

But don't tell my wife about Tim's story.

I hope many of you had an opportunity to attend the N.C. State Fair in Raleigh or the Mountain State Fair in Fletcher this year. I am proud of both fairs and their traditions of showcasing North Carolina agriculture and our residents' talents, and offering good, wholesome family fun.

We added a new wrinkle to our N.C. Education Lottery Military Appreciation Day celebration. (See Commissioner, pg. 2)

Winners in N.C. State Fair wine competition announced

RALEIGH – Winners were recently chosen in the 2014 N.C. State Fair Wine Competition, and for the first time a muscadine wine earned top honors in the contest.

Hinnant Family Vineyards in Pine Level won over the panel of judges with Carolina Wildflower, its semi-sweet wine made from muscadine grapes grown in North Carolina. The competition awards two top prizes, the N.C. Winegrowers Cup for overall best in show and the N.C. Muscadine Cup for the best muscadine wine. This is the first time in the competition’s history that both cups have gone to a muscadine wine.

“Traditionally, a vinifera wine has taken top honors in the competition and received the Winegrowers Cup.” said Whit Winslow, wine marketing specialist with the N.C. Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services. “Hinnant’s Carolina Wildflower is a great example of the quality and variety of wines now available in North Carolina.”

This year’s competition featured 437 entries from both commercial and amateur winemakers across the state. In addition to the two cups, best-of-category awards were presented to the following commercial wineries:

- White Vinifera - Herrera Vineyards, Dobson, Dry Riesling
- Rose/Blush Vinifera or Hybrid - Sanctuary Vineyards, Jarvisburg, Wildflowers
- Red Vinifera - Childress Vineyards, Lexington, Barrel Select Sangiovese 2010
- White Hybrid - McRitchie Winery & Ciderworks, Thurmond, Traminette
- Red Hybrid - Carolina Heritage Vineyard & Winery, Elkin, Chambourcin - Cynthiana Blend
- White Native American - Hinnant Family Vineyards, Pine Level, Carolina Wildflower
- Rose/Blush Native American - Cypress Bend Vineyards, Wagram, Roseneath
- Red Native American - Old North State Winery, Mount Airy, Fish Hippie Seersucker Social
- Fruit/Other - Jones vonDrehle, Thurmond, Vineyards & Winery, Blackberry
- Sparkling - Biltmore Estate Wine Co., Asheville, Biltmore Chateau Reserve Blanc de Blanc Sparkling Brut North Carolina
- Fortified/Dessert - Sanders Ridge, Boonville, Sweet Muscat Canelli 2013

In the amateur competition, Lawrence Plott of Madison received Best of Show from the judges for his Traminette. Ribbons and prize money were also awarded to the top three wines in each amateur category.

Winners from the wine competition were displayed at the State Fair Oct. 16-26.

North Carolina is home to more than 140 wineries and 400 commercial grape growers. The state is ranked 10th nationally for both wine and grape production. Find more information about North Carolina wineries at www.ncwine.org.

The deadline for the January issue of the Agricultural Review is Dec. 1; the deadline for the February issue is Jan. 2.

Bucolic briefs

The N.C. Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services has received a grant from the N.C. Tobacco Trust Fund Commission to offer branded non-waxed, water-resistant produce boxes to Community Supported Agriculture farms through a cost-share program. Boxes would be marked with the Got to Be NC logo and would be available for CSA’s that are members of the Goodness Grows in NC/Got to Be NC programs. Membership for the programs is free. For registration information on these programs, go to www.gottobenc.com/become-a-member. Boxes are expected to be bundled in lots of 50, with an anticipated cost-share to farmer of 50 cents a box. Boxes are expected to be available in early 2015. For more information about obtaining boxes, email your name, business name, address, email and daytime phone number to Jack Nales at jack.nales@ncagr.gov.

As a way to help farmers and agricultural workers stay safe at work, the N.C. Department of Labor offers safety videos on a variety of topics through its YouTube channel. Video topics include: preventing green tobacco sickness, hazard communication, tobacco harvester safety, heat stress, migrant housing requirements, forklift safety, and information about the NCDOL’s Gold Star Growers program. The videos are in English and Spanish to increase understanding of safety hazards and preventing accidents. To learn more about the NCDOL and the Agricultural Safety and Health Bureau, go to www.nclabor.com or call 1-800-NC-LABOR (800-625-2267). NCDOL is also on Facebook and Twitter (@NCDOL).

Beekeepers with bees for rent and growers interested in bee pollination services can post their information on the BeeLinked website at www.ncagr.com/beelinked. The site is hosted by the N.C. Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and the N.C. State University Apiculture Program. Anyone interested in listing their information can do so by filling out an online Submit Your Ad form on the BeeLinked page or by contacting NCDA&CS at 919-233-8214 or by email at NCHoneybee@ncagr.gov or call NCSU at 919-515-1660. The NCDA&CS Plant Industry Division regulates the movement of agricultural or related items capable of spreading harmful insects, diseases and other pests. Beekeepers participating in this program will be required to comply with all honey and bee industry regulations.

Winning apple and egg recipes from the N.C. State Fair

Donna Barefoot of Benson took first place and $200 for her NC Apple Slaw in the NC Apple Growers Association's Apple Recipe Contest.

Gail Fuller of Raleigh took first place and $200 for her Slow Cooker Pumpkin Pecan Bread Pudding recipe in the N.C. Egg Association's The Incredible Edible Egg Recipe Contest.

The winning apple and egg recipes follow:

NC Apple Slaw

1 Gala apple (thin sliced)
1 Granny Smith apple (thin sliced)
¼ cup seasoned rice vinegar
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons honey
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons seeded and minced Jalapeno pepper
8 cups fine shredded Napa cabbage
1 red bell pepper (seeded and cut in thin slices)
½ cucumber (cut in thin slices)
¼ cup of cilantro

3 tablespoons sesame seeds
1 ounce radish sprouts

Slice apples and set aside. In a large bowl, whisk vinegar, oil, honey, salt and pepper. Add apples and toss to coat. Add remaining ingredients except sprouts and toss to coat. Just before serving scatter sprouts over top of slaw. Serves 8.

Slow Cooker Pumpkin Pecan Bread Pudding

1 (1 pound) loaf day old bread – about 8 cups
½ cup raisins
4 eggs
1 cup canned pumpkin
1 cup Half-n-Half
½ cup heavy cream
¾ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter – melted
½ teaspoon vanilla

1 tablespoon pumpkin pie spice

Cut bread into cubes. Put bread cubes and raisins into a greased crockpot. Whisk together eggs, pumpkin, half-n-half, cream, brown sugar, melted butter, vanilla and pumpkin pie spice. Pour over bread cubes and raisins in crockpot and stir gently making sure all bread cubes are covered. Cook on low for 4 to 5 hours or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Praline Sauce:

½ cup butter
½ cup heavy cream
1/3 cup brown sugar
½ cup toasted pecans – chopped

In a heavy saucepan over medium-low heat, stir together butter, cream and brown sugar. Bring to a boil and reduce heat to low. Simmer until sauce thickens or for about 5 minutes. Add chopped pecans and pour over bread pudding in crockpot. Cook for another 30 minutes.
